

There is Coffee and Coffee and Coffee, but Bakers' Barrington Hall, the STEEL CUT COFFEE

Beats them all and satisfies the most fastidious.

40 CENTS A CAN

Costs no more than any other. Pure Mocha and Java prepared in a new way. The coffee berry is cut up (not ground) by knives of almost razor sharpness into small uniform particles. Thus it is not crushed, as by the old method of grinding, and the little oil cells remain unbroken. The essential oil (food product) cannot evaporate and is preserved indefinitely. This is one reason why a pound of Barrington Hall will make 15 to 20 cups more of full strength coffee than will any coffee ground the old way.

But the real significance of Barrington Hall Coffee is that it can be used without ill effect by those who find ordinary coffee injures them. Try it.

HELD TO ACCOUNT

Latonia Stock Association Must Explain Business.

STOCK SOLD WITHOUT RIGHT

It is Alleged That 825 Shares of Stock Held in Trust, Were Transferred to Outside Parties Without Warrant and Right.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 16.—Suit was begun in the United States Circuit Court, in Covington, Ky., yesterday by Harry Harris of New York in which he prays for a decree annulling the free transfer of 825 shares of stock in the Latonia Agricultural and Stock Association, formerly held in trust, and for an accounting of the receipts and expenditures of the association since the trust agreement was entered into nearly ten years ago.

The plaintiff sets out as cause of action that William Applegate in 1895, as trustee for himself, and associates, took over certificates of 825 shares of stock in the Latonia Agricultural and Stock Association and that these shares were subsequently sold or transferred by Applegate to Joseph L. Rhinock of Covington, and Julius Fleichmann of Cincinnati, without consulting his associates in the trust and without warrant and that no accounting of receipts and expenditures had ever been made by Applegate to the plaintiff and his associates in trust.

Count Witte is right. If Russia is to be saved, resolute measures must be adopted and enforced, and it is not his fault if at times they seem harsh. He is dealing with a condition for which he is not responsible, but which he must dispose of, and he is doing so with the sole aim of saving Russia from ruin. In that work the world wishes him success.

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busily at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp—it will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.

REALLY INVESTIGATING.

Truesdale Committee Will Recommend Drastic Action.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The Herald today says:

Despite the recent silence maintained by the Truesdale committee as to its inquiry into the affairs of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, it is now known from outside sources that on four different occasions it has made incomplete reports to the board of trustees, covering such ground as it had traversed and embodying not only elaborate findings of fact, but also recommending drastic action in various directions.

In well informed banking circles yesterday it was credibly reported that the committee would not content itself with dealing in generalities, but would recommend to the company action of the most radical character in the cases of specific individuals, who are thought to have abused their trusts.

Whether the committee's report, when finally made public, will go so far as to recommend civil actions at law to compel restitution of diverted moneys or funds wasted by lax management could not be definitely learned.

MARSHALL FIELD DIES

endowed with $1,000,000 the museum now known as the Field Columbian Museum, for which a house valued at $8,000,000 is shortly to be erected in the heart of the city. He later gave to the University of Chicago land valued at $450,000, to be used for athletic purposes, and a portion of it is known today as Marshall Field.

Gave to Every Worthy Cause.

He was extremely charitable in other directions, never failing to contribute to a cause which he knew to be worthy.

Personally, Mr. Field was a handsome man, a trifle above medium height, slender and well-proportioned. He was popular socially, although he never mingled in society as the world is generally understood. In his personal tastes and habits he was quiet and modest. In politics he never interfered, although he was always ready to give time and money to movements looking toward better national and municipal government. He was prominently mentioned as a vice-presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket in 1904. He was several times offered the second place on the ticket, but he refused to accept it. One night he was called up at his home in this city by the Associated Press and for the second time within a week asked if he intended to accept the nomination. He declared that he did not, and added:

"There is no need of the Associated Press asking me this question again. It has my authority to deny the statement as often as it likes, no matter where it comes from."

Second Marriage Last Year.

Mr. Field was twice married, his first wife having died several years ago. Mrs. Field left two children, Ethel, now married and residing at Leanington, England, and Marshal Field, Jr., who accidentally shot himself at his home in this city November 22, 1905, and died five days later. September 5, 1905, Mr. Field was married in London, England, to Mrs. Caton, the widow of the late Arthur Caton, of this city.

There will be no service of any sort in this city. It is planned to hold the funeral services in Chicago at a date to be fixed, either from the Field residence or the Prairie Avenue First Presbyterian Church.

Canadian Plumbers Plead Guilty to Unlawful Combination.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 16.—The government's prosecution of Toronto plumbers as individuals for combination in restraint of trade and conspiracy has resulted in 134 men pleading guilty. Forty were yesterday fined a total of $10,000 the fines of the others being suspended. The combination as a whole was fined $12,000 several weeks ago.

READY TO REPORT.

New York Life House Cleaning Committee Working.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Thomas P. Fowler, chairman of the house cleaning committee of the New York Life Insurance Company said yesterday that the committee would be ready to report to the trustees in about ten days. He said that the report would go to the trustees, who undoubtedly would make it public.

"We can only report now that we are hard at work and making progress," said Mr. Fowler last night. "We meet four or five times a week, and the sessions continue until late in the evening. We have not yet begun the work of framing the report but are still being occupied with accounts, figures, and facts. We should be able to wind up the investigation and report within ten days."

MAKES CONFESSION

Play Moves Burglar to Confess His Crime.

IS ARRESTED BY POLICE

Moved by Play Where Burglar is Caught in Act, Says World is Against Criminal Who Tries to Reform—Safe Cracker Confesses.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—A dispatch to the Record Herald from New York says:

Moved by a passage in a play where a burglar, caught in the act, tells a clergyman that the whole world is against a criminal who tries to reform, a young man who gave his name as Albert Emerson, arose from an orchestra seat in the Garden Theater last night and before the audience, proclaimed himself an expert safe breaker and robber and declared his experience proved the words of the stage character. His interruption, made in tones loud enough to be heard through the theatre, stopped the action of the play. He was arrested, and at the police station his statement and record were verified. Emerson has served several terms in prison.

FACTS MEAN MORE THAN THEORIES

No one can intelligently follow the developments of American politics who does not avail himself of the information collected in a comprehensive political year book like The Tribune Almanac. This publication covers the national field, and offers its readers the freshest facts concerning our varied political activities. It reproduces the vote by counties in each State in which an election was held in 1905; summarizes federal legislation for the year and notes all important changes in personnel under the national government and the State governments. The Tribune Almanac for 1906 gives, besides, the vote in every State by counties for Roosevelt and Parker, and tabulates the official returns by States for all the six Presidential tickets in the field in 1904. It gives the popular vote for President by States from 1880 to 1904, and the electoral and popular votes for President and Vice-President since 1789. It gives the full and exact vote cast for candidates for Congress in each Congressional district in United States in 1904 and the political platforms and national committees of all parties.

Politics is the main feature of the issue for 1906. But other topics are covered with fulness and accuracy. The federal government, the various federal activities and services, financial, commercial and industrial statistics, are features only less important than the digest of election returns, Educational and religious statistics, sporting records, statistics of learned and patriotic societies, foreign miscellany, a necrology and a review of the Russo-Japanese war are included in this handy and useful publication. The new issue, of 416 pages, 8-1/2s, as usual, for 25 cents. Cloth bound, 50 cents.

HELD IN CONTEMPT

Mrs. Taggart Takes Children Out of Courts Jurisdiction.

GOES TO EUROPE ON TRIP

Appeal is Now Pending in Circuit Court by Mrs. Taggart, and if it Does Not Hold, She Will be in Contempt and Liable to Fine or Imprisonment.

COSHOCTON, N. Y., Jan. 16.—I am more than surprised that Mrs. Taggart left the United States with her children," said Judge Eason, who presided in the Taggart divorce case, when told that Mrs. Taggart left for Europe yesterday.

"The only point on which Mrs. Taggart claims to have an appeal over my decision in the case is the ruling regarding the custody of the children. The divorce is final but she has now filed an appeal bond for $4000 in order to pay that part of the decree as to the custody of the children to the circuit court.

"My decree does not permit her to take the children out of the court's jurisdiction, but if her appeal holds good she would not be in contempt but she would have to abide by the decree of the circuit court which meets February 13th, at Wooster. If the appeal does not hold, and Mrs. Taggart has taken the children out of the court's jurisdiction, unless she has an excuse that is satisfactory to the court, she is in contempt and subject to fine or imprisonment or both."

PROSPEROUS CONDITION.

Golf Association in Good Financial Condition.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The annual report of the executive committee of Golf Association, published today shows that a prosperous financial condition continues to exist. The balance on hand on January 1, 1905, was $10,464, as against $11,190 on December 1, 1905.

The report also shows an increase in membership. In February, 1905, the total was 288 clubs and on December, 1905, it was 293. Since the last meeting fourteen clubs have been dropped, while two clubs have been transferred from associate to allied membership.

Rev. Carlisle P. B. Martin, L. L. D.

Of Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first arising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Balard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung trouble." Sold by Hart's drug stores.

Dangers of a Cold and How to Avoid Them.

More fatalities have their origin in or result from a cold than from any other cause. This fact alone should make people more careful as there is no danger whatever from a cold when it is properly treated in the beginning. For many years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been recognized as the most prompt and effectual medicine in use for this disease. It acts on nature's plan, loosens the cough, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Sold by Frank Hart and leading druggists.
